

Quantum Services

Training Tracker Software

$299

- Maintain a list of all employees within the company
- Manage a list of Courses within the Company
- Develop list classes available
- Record classes that employees have taken
- Keep track of costs for each class per employee
- Meets ISO9000 requirements for education purposes
- Make sure your employees have gotten the training they need

You can maintain a complete list of all your employees and what department they work in. From this list you can easily add any training that the employee has completed either inside or outside of the company.

A list of courses can be developed and maintain to know what requirements are needed for certain jobs. Once courses are developed, classes can be created for each course by assigning a date and time, course instructor, location of the training session, and length of the training session.

The class costs can also be recorded so you can track your education costs by employee.

The application can be installed on a network. This allows backup of the data file during your normal backup routines. It also provides the ability to share the data with the necessary individuals.